WIDNEYS LEAVE

GLENDALE FAMILY GOES TO SANTA ANA WHERE MR. WIDNEY HAS POSITION

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Widney, of 132 Jackson street, who have for the past four years made their home in Glendale and have won a wide circle of friends, are planning to leave soon for Santa Ana with their children, where they will make their home. Mr. Widney, who has been in the shoe business several years here, has accepted a position with the Miles Shoe Company at Santa Ana and will leave on the 22d to take up his new work. Mrs. Widney will probably not go until August 1st. Among the farewell affairs to be given in their honor will be an evening party at the La Canada home of J. A. Newton of the Newton Electric Co., when Mr. and Mrs. Newton will be host and hostess to a group of friends wishing "Godspeed" to the Widneys. Mr. and Mrs. Widney have been prominent members of the Presbyterian church.

CO-OPERATE WITH SOLDIER BOYS

All persons exempt from draft into war service on account of age should assist the men of draft age who go into the service in every way possible. Upon these young men is placed a responsibility which their fellow countrymen who are not called upon to bear such a responsibility should recognize. Many of us were born since the time of the Civil War, and circumstances have been such that it has not been necessary for us to be called upon to take up arms in the defense of our country.

Circumstances have placed this additional burden upon the young men of today. These circumstances have been largely brought about by us older people who became so engrossed in seeking riches and pleasure that we neglected to prepare against attacks from the enemy. Now it is in place for us to use the money earned in these years of peace to assist the boys in winning the war.

Every young man who has been called to the colors should be given a clean record for all that transpired prior to his entering the war. Every man in the service of his country at the present is a patriot and he should be treated as such.

DEATH OF JOHN SMITH

John Smith, only brother of Mrs. O. C. Lane, of 1427 Vine street, passed away this morning at the home of his sister at 1 o'clock. Mr. Smith, who was 46 years of age, had been a resident of Glendale for the past 4 years, during which time he had been a patient sufferer. He was a retired rancher from Canada, where he had large land holdings. Funeral services will be held at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company on Wednesday, July 17, at 3 o'clock, Rev. Cole officiating. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

FLOWERS FOR CONGRESS

MONROVIA MAN'S CANDIDACY AN OPPORTUNITY FOR DISTRICT SAYS SHERER

Editor Evening News:

As has been previously mentioned in the News, Mr. Montaville Flowers of Monrovia is a candidate for the nomination for Congress for the Ninth District, which includes the San Fernando Valley. Mr. Flowers is a man of national reputation, already well and favorably known in Washington and throughout the country, this giving him an influence if he obtains a seat in Congress, such as any other man we might select could not acquire during his first term and quite probably would never possess. Mr. Flowers for many months past has been lecturing throughout the United States on the Chautauqua platform, upon current questions concerning the war, in support of war measures and for the purpose of enlightening the people as to its causes and arousing them to a full sense of their duty in the present great crisis.

He is a great orator, which means not merely a skillful user of words, but a speaker who has a mind full of ideas and has the skill to express them. It seems to me that Southern California should not let the opportunity pass by for obtaining in Congress a representative of Mr. Flowers' ability and established prestige. He will no doubt be in Glendale soon and those who are able to meet him and hear him speak will be fortunate.

J. C. SHERER.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF NAVY HEROES WANTED

The Navy Department is collecting photographs of enlisted men who lose their lives in the war that their memory may be perpetuated. Secretary Daniels asks relatives or others having such photographs to lend them to the Navy that copies may be made for the Navy's records. Originals will be returned to the owners as fast as copies can be made.

A photograph of each man is to be forwarded by the Navy Department to the training station where he began his career in the service. At each of such stations a memorial gallery of honor or a hero's corner is to be established so that for all time the face of the man of the Navy who has made the supreme sacrifice may be honored by the youth of the future sent to the station for training.

All pictures, loaned or contributed, should be securely wrapped for mailing after they have been marked with the name, branch of service, and training station the young man entered after enlistment. They should be addressed to the Recruiting Division, Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C. Care will be taken to return safely the photograph to the sender, when desired, together with one of the copies made of it.

CONCERT AT SANITARIUM

A concert was given yesterday evening for the patients at the Glendale Sanitarium at which Miss Alice Pray, of New Hampshire, a visitor in Glendale, contributed some beautiful vocal numbers. Miss Pray is a guest of her sister, Miss Mildred Pray, at her home, 1468 Milford street. Miss Mildred Pray, besides accompanying her sister, gave several piano selections and also was accompanist for Miss Susine Wessells, who played both violin and viola. The program was carried out along patriotic lines, all the composers appearing being those of the allied nations, old French and Italian composers as well as those of England and America being especially featured. A number of guests who were friends of the patients or of the performers formed an appreciative addition to the audience.

BIG GERMAN DRIVE CHECKED

ENEMY HURLED BACK BY BRILLIANT AMERICAN COUNTER ATTACK FAILED TO RENEW OFFENSIVE TODAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, July 16.—Hurled back of the Marne by an American brilliant counter attack, the Germans failed to renew their infantry assault this morning. This is significant that their complete defeat was effected. It is raining intermittently on the Marne front and the artillery activity is still fierce. In spite of the bad weather airmen of both sides are busy bombing the back areas.

The American counter was executed with unusual coolness and the co-operation of the infantry, artillery and machine guns was highly effective. Numerous tales are told of individual bravery.

In expelling the Germans from the entire south side of the Marne the Americans recaptured Fossoy, Mezy, Crezancy and Courtemont.

The Americans east of Rheims did not yield an inch to the enemy. After they had been subjected to an unprecedented heavy gas and high explosive bombardment the German infantry advanced on them in massed formation. American machine guns and infantry withheld their fire until the enemy was very near and then firing low tore great gaps in the ranks. The Germans fled leaving the field covered with dead and wounded. A few Germans entered American trenches but bayonets and fists soon made them prisoners or casualties. A German aerial escadrille sweeping low started to raid American trenches with machine gun bullets, but one plane was downed by American infantry and the others withdrew.

PARIS, July 16.—Infantry fighting along the new Champagne front has completely died down. South of the Marne the enemy was unable to advance beyond a line between St. Agnon and Mont Hodon. The French are still holding Mareuille-Port. North of the Marne the Germans were held at a line southeast of Rodemant wood. Elsewhere there is no change.

Prisoners' papers show the Germans were planning a twelve-mile advance along the entire front. Last night German airmen attacked an American hospital at Jouy, killing two and wounding nine.

The general opinion prevails that the enemy is checked. He has not progressed since last night. The Americans took more than 2000 prisoners in the Marne battle. French aviators destroyed two bridges crowded with Germans on the Marne.

LONDON, July 16.—The first German rush in the new Champagne drive has been definitely checked. It is authoritatively learned that the push was not renewed up to noon today, showing that yesterday's check was severe. There is local fighting between Rheims and the Marne. Between Chexy-SurSMarne and Vaux the American forces are brilliantly fighting. Elsewhere there is desultory skirmishing. The Germans have used 30 to 35 divisions, massing nearly 12,000 men to every mile of front.

Experts believe the latest phase of the offensive is the supreme effort to break through and defeat all the French forces possible and that there is no definite geographical objective. West of Rheims the enemy advanced over four miles at various points on a 22-mile front.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The War Department announces that General Pershing's report confirms the American victory on the West Front. The general situation is satisfactory. American forces are being praised by all allied nations.

MOONEY GOES TO SAN QUENTIN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Commitment papers for Thomas J. Mooney were issued today by Superior Judge Griffin and Mooney will go to San Quentin tomorrow to "be hanged within sixty days." This is following action by the Superior Court in denying Mooney's appeal for a writ of probable cause which his attorney asked on the common law theory that "for every wrong there is a remedy." Mooney's attorneys and friends believe Governor Stephens will exercise executive clemency in his behalf before the day of execution.

SOLDIER GUESTS

Two soldier boys were the house guests of Mrs. Ella Richardson over the week end this week, keeping up her series of patriotic parties resulting from her determination to be a mother to as many boys in service as she can possibly reach, always remembering her own two boys, to whom some other mother may some day return the kindness. Privates Raymond Mason and Cecil Harmon, both of Co. B, Coast Artillery, one of the companies recently practicing on the Glendale rifle range, were the guests of honor on this occasion, coming home with Mrs. Richardson from the Friday Morning Club weekly dance on Saturday afternoon, which is open to all men in uniform.

On Sunday a picnic dinner was served on the big front porch, and many guests came in to make the afternoon and evening a pleasant one. Among those who were present were Miss Mary Logan with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Logan; Mrs. S. G. Spaulding with her daughter, Miss Louise Spaulding, an accomplished musician, who contributed much in her piano selections and singing to the enjoyment of the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. B. Richardson, Mr. Adams, in the balloon service at Arcadia, who "dropped in," as Mrs. Richardson loves to have the boys do, Mrs. Charles Shattuck and her daughter Gwendolyn, and the Misses Frances Payne, Kathlee Duncan, Hope Armstrong, Stahl and Harriet Barnes.

RED CROSS WORKERS' REQUEST FOR A FLAG IS SOON GRANTED

The call in yesterday's Evening News for contributions to a flag fund found a quick response. Miss Mary Blackburn returned Monday evening from a visit with relatives at Corona. She also attended the Huntington Beach assembly during her absence.

THE RED TRIANGLE

DAVID BLACK WRITES FROM CAMP KEARNY OF Y. M. C. A. NEEDS

David Black of Kenneth road, North Glendale, who has been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Kearny where he is secretary in the base hospital for some time, writes the Evening News enclosing matter relating to the wonderful organization of which he is a part. In regard to the need of men and money he says:

In the next Y. M. C. A. drive, the eight states of the west will raise 5 per cent, or $5,600,000 of the $112,000,000 which is the minimum amount set by the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. as necessary to meet the needs of the American soldier and his Allies at home and abroad and also finance the Y. M. C. A. in its work of erecting hostess houses for the use of soldiers and women war workers.

Fully as important as the financial drive is the statement that 4000 men and women are needed to carry on Y. M. C. A. war work among the troops of the American, French and Italian armies overseas before September 1st and that 5000 additional men and women will be required by Spring.

Never has there been such a call for men to serve the soldiers in the history of the world. Dr. John R. Mott, head of the International Y. M. C. A., and George W. Perkins, of New York, treasurer of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., brought this message to the Pacific Coast.

Only men over draft age, of good moral character, will be considered for this service. It entails danger, privation and temptation and requires stamina and judgment. Already 300 American huts and dugouts are under shell fire, eight Y. M. C. A. men have been killed since the present offensive opened on the western front, and other secretaries have been gassed. Y. M. C. A. huts are constantly subjected to German shell fire. It is no job for a man who does not possess courage or is not ready to make the supreme sacrifice in order to serve the soldier and help win the war. It is the greatest service the man over draft age can render in this world conflict.

WHIST PARTY

A pretty whist party at which red roses and dahlias furnished the decorations was given on Monday afternoon by Mrs. P. M. Zabel at her home, 1437 Ivy street, to compliment Mrs. Albert Schmidt and Mrs. M. Cadrett, both of Oakland. Refreshments were daintily served following the cards at which Mrs. Papineau won highest honors and Mrs. Schmidt was consoled with a pretty souvenir for her low score. Those present, besides the hostess and guests of honor, were Mrs. D. T. Krudop, of Hollywood, Mrs. Bernard R. Hensel, Mrs. Nettie Rice and Mrs. A. Ault, of Los Angeles, and Mesdames D. Gervais, O. L. Papeneau, W. A. Oliver, Clarence Redmond, Charles Wolfe and Albert Harris, all of Glendale.

BLIND MISSIONARY

REV. ALEXANDER SAUNDERS TO SPEAK AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH THIS EVENING

The pre-Communion services at the Presbyterian church this week are of more than usual interest. Today the afternoon and evening meetings are in charge of the two Missionary Societies of the church. Miss Margaret Nichols will conduct the Young Peoples service at 4 o'clock, representing the Light Bearers and the Endeavor Societies. At 6:30 the Ladies' Aid will serve supper. This is for all who are interested and will be a means of real Christian fellowship. The small sum of 30 cents a plate will be asked to cover expenses. At 7:45, in the audiorium, Rev. Alexander Saunders and wife, of the China Inland Mission, will address the audience. This wonderful missionary has been blind for ten years and Mrs. Saunders has been afflicted with deafness, nevertheless they have carried on a remarkable work. They are expecting to return to the field very soon and take with them a number of young people who have consecrated their lives also to this greatest of all causes. It is an unusual privilege to be able to listen to people who have steadfastly followed one unwavering purpose for thirty years against all kinds of difficulties. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy this service. Don't forget the time and place, the Presbyterian church, at 7:45 this evening.

CROP PROSPECTS

In an address at Dubuque, Iowa, recently Secretary of Agriculture David F. Houston reviewed the achievements of the farmers of the country during the past year and indicated what results might be expected the present year. He said:

"The results of last year's agricultural operations speak for themselves. That the farmers are primarily responsible for them and deserve the credit goes without saying; but it would be unfair not to recognize the great assistance rendered by the Federal and State departments and colleges and the tremendous part they have played in bringing about better food conditions for this Nation and for the allies. In spite of difficulties, real and imaginary, the farmers of the Nation, with the assistance of these agencies, extended their operations, planted 23,000,000 acres more of the leading food crops than in 1916, a larger acreage than ever before planted in the history of the Nation, and produced record crops of most products except wheat. The partial failure of this crop was in no wise due to lack of interest or activity on the part of the farmers. They planted a large acreage, but had the misfortune to lose by winter killing the largest percentage of it ever recorded, as they also had the misfortune to have the largest percentage of soft corn in our history. These things were done notwithstanding the insistent representations—or rather misrepresentations—made in Washington and elsewhere that they could not be done. Even more striking is the fact that they greatly increased the number of all classes of live stock. In spite of exportations of horses and mules, they increased the number by 454,000. They increased the number of milch cows by 390,000, and of other cattle by nearly 2,000,000; the number of sheep for the first time in a generation and a half by 1,300,000; and of swine by nearly 4,000,000.

The indications to date are that they will do even better this year. Last fall they planted the record winter wheat acreage; this spring the record spring wheat acreage. The weather conditions have been increasingly favorable and the indications are that we shall have more than 930,000,000 bushels of wheat. This, on the basis of a normal and extravagant consumption, would allow 600,000,000 bushels for domestic use and an exportable surplus of 330,000,000 bushels. But this is not all. The indications are that the rye production will exceed that of the record year by 21,000,000, more than double the output in peace times; that the production of barley will be increased by 26,000,000; and that oats will approximately equal the record crop of 1917, exceeding the five-year average by over 300,000,000 bushels. The condition of the cotton crop exceeds the 10-year average, as does also that of all hay and pastures. It is too early to speak of the corn crop, but the informal indications are that the acreage will be large, and we have reason to believe the quality of the corn will be by no means as low as last year.

These statements furnish ground for optimism and for confidence among our people and our allies that we shall not suffer from lack of food and that we shall not fail to win the war because of its shortage. They should be reassuring to consumers and a matter of encouragement to farmers that they can again overcome difficulties.

THE NIGHT BEFORE THE BATTLE

It was the night before they were to go over the top, writing from a shell-riddled hut near the front line trenches, E. A. Ballis, of Walla Walla, Wash., a Y. M. C. A. war work secretary "over there" paints a vivid word picture of the scene.

A mixed crowd of French and Americans had assembled. Comic recitations, impromptu songs and parodies on popular airs were sung in the crowded "Y" hut. Then came the parody on "There's a Long, Long Trail A-Winding," sung over and over again.

It's a long, long trail a-winding,
Thru No Man's Land out in France,
Where the shrapnel shells are bursting
But we must advance.
There'll be lots of thrills and fighting,
Before our dreams all come true;
But we'll show the darned old Kaiser,
What we Yankee boys can do.

Then "Glory, Glory, Hallelujah," repeated again and again. Not a word of religion heard yet the hut fairly reverberating with a subconscious religious spirit—God, home and loved ones.

Then a lad from Dixie handed the Y. M. C. A. secretary his gold watch and chain and his mother's address. "If I don't come back tomorrow morning," said he, "you will write to my mother and send her this watch, won't you?" Others did likewise.

Then came the raid and the barrage. The earth trembled with the terrific explosions and out into the dark of that awful night went the Y. M. C. A. men with buckets of hot chocolate to serve to the men, a practical Christianity such as the world has never before witnessed.

CONGRESSIONAL AND ASSEMBLY CANDIDATES

Why should we expect nations to negotiate terms of peace and live in a spirit of co-operation when it seems impossible for citizens residing in educational centers to put into practice this rule?

In this congressional district there are five candidates aspiring for nomination at the primaries August 27. All of these men are bound to spend time and money in presenting their individual claims before the people. Everybody is asked in these war times to conserve both time and money. Are these candidates complying with the patriotic request of the government? The great question "who is to drop out of the race" arises and its answer can not be satisfactorily given.

The same conditions hold true in the 61st Assembly district. There are four candidates residing in the Glendale community who are asking the votes of the people at the primary election August 27, viz.: P. S. McNutt, Arthur G. Lindley, Dr. Jessie Russell and John Robert White. Who, with an iron crowbar, could pry the candidacy of any one of the four loose? They all claim to be in the race to the finish.

P. S. McNutt was a defeated candidate two years ago and therefore claims the right to try again. Dr. Russell has been building legislative fences for many years, so does not care to have war conditions interfere with her plans. Mr. Lindley has been urged by California Drys to get into the race and stay in the race and he is staying. Mr. White, whose candidacy was only recently announced, has been put forward by business organizations of the district who are advocating a practical and business assembly for the next session, and these organizations claim they have been trying to bring these conditions about for many years and hold they have a right to keep their candidate in the field.

The political battle is on. All the Assembly candidates seem to unite in favoring a dry state and a dry nation. Upon this great issue they stand on common ground. It is now up to the voters to inquire as to the real business ability of the various candidates. Have they been able to handle their own business successfully?

The political searchlight will be turned on and for the next six weeks each candidate will be in the limelight of a critical people. Voters should be courteous and wise in making their decision.

The wets say that we do not dare to tamper with the personal liberty of our foreign-born shipworkers. Well, we tampered with their personal liberty considerably when we drafted some of our foreign-born for the army. Take a man out of his home, make him change the style of his clothing, assign hours for his meals, drill him, work him, control his habits, put him on shipboard, send him to the firing line, and there make him fight and possibly die, and you are tampering with his personal liberty considerably. What is there sacred about these shipworkers of Camden? There is nothing sacred, but there probably is something sensible, and they would laugh at any effort to create disaffection among them because of war prohibition.

Personals

Mrs. J. M. Banker is again at her home, 231 Cedar street, after an extended and happy visit with her daughter at Tehachepi.

Miss Ada Stahl, recently from New Mexico, who has spent the past winter in Los Angeles and will probably make her home there, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Milton Armstrong at her home, 351 Blanche avenue.

Miss Cora Hickman, of 310 West Park avenue, expects to leave on Wednesday morning for a business trip to Imperial Valley, where she may remain for several weeks, though her plans are not definitely arranged as yet. On her return Mrs. Alfred Englehart expects to accompany Miss Hickman and will probably be a guest at the Imler home for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bender and daughters, of 811 Cameron place, motored to Simi Sunday, where they made a surprise visit to their son John, who is one of the high school students who volunteered for summer war work. They drove on to Oxnard before returning home. Mr. and Mrs. Bender leave today for an extended motor tour.

The engagement of Miss Carrie Stone, formerly of 236 Mira Loma street, Tropico, and now of 865 Glendale avenue, has been announced. Her fiance is Cadet W. H. Johnson of the Royal Air Forces, Canada, and he will be in Glendale in August, when plans for the wedding will be arranged. Miss Stone is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stone, who have spent the past month on their ranch at Van Nuys.

A number of Glendale people are planning to attend the big day at the Red Cross Shop at Alvarado and 8th streets, Los Angeles, on Saturday, when the employees of one of the Los Angeles stores will take over the entire management, furnishing all the articles to be sold in the shop and contributing entertainment in the way of a street dance which will be conducted from 6 until 10:30. The shop will also be kept open until this late hour and cabaret numbers contributed by many "movie" folk of fame will be a special feature.

Mrs. Louisiana Spaulding, of 121 West Park avenue, with her daughter, Miss Louise, who is visiting her for the summer, are spending the day today at Ocean Park, where they are the house guests of Mrs. Victor Rossbach, of Hollywood, at her beach cottage. Mrs. and Miss Spaulding were among the Glendale people who greatly enjoyed the wonderful garden party for Red Cross French relief work on the grounds of the Brunswig estate in Los Angeles on Saturday.

QUAKER CITY GIRLS ARE TOO ATTRACTIVE

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—There is a shortage of unattractive girls in Philadelphia, and the cigar dealers have to take the consequences.

Girl cigar clerks were employed so as to release men for war work, but all the girls were fatally attractive. So many men who ought to be at work loafed about the cigar stores, stealing conversations and smiles, that the cigar dealers felt they were doing a great injustice to the country. The girls were fired. No unattractive ones could be found to replace them, so men past draft age have been employed.

MAKE PAPER FROM SAWDUST

The success of an experiment in making paper from sawdust has been practically demonstrated at a large paper mill at Aberdeen, Scotland. The Aberdeen Evening Express of a recent issue was printed from paper which contained a large percentage of sawdust.

Beginners in the poultry business will probably make many mistakes and difficult problems will be presented for solution before success in any large measure will be attained. As soon as it is found to be a paying investment, more capital may be put into the plant.

The germs of some of our worst plant diseases, including the black-rot and black-leg of cabbage, have been found to overwinter on the seed. For this reason it is always advisable, as a precautionary measure, to treat the seed with some disinfectant before sowing.

If the first appearance in this country of weeds, such as Russian thistle, field hawk-weed, and Canada thistle, had been reported, much of the loss and trouble which they are causing might have been avoided. It is important to report the appearance of new weeds and to take precautions to prevent their dissemination.

A hundred hens on every American farm, a hundred eggs from every hen. That means 60,000,000,000 eggs per year—a military resource not to be ignored.

LAND ARMY GIRLS LEAVE

A group of Glendale recruits of the Woman's Land Army of America left yesterday afternoon with the unit of food conservation workers sent out from the Los Angeles Land Army headquarters at room 428, Chamber of Commerce building, Los Angeles. This unit of 50 young women, many of whom are school teachers, are to do patriotic service in the canneries at Hemet, where there are now 200 women working under this national organization.

The girls will live at Hemet in big barracks newly erected and furnished with shower baths and modern conveniences. These barracks accommodate 70 in each building and are divided into small apartments shared by several girls. Each unit takes its own cook and a chaperone to whom the girls are responsible for their conduct. Miss Nora Sterry, principal of the Macey street school, Los Angeles, is in charge of the entire camp of Land Army girls, and Dr. Orrin B. Waite, principal of the Hemet Union High School, has supervision over all the fruit workers of the district. Mr. Waite has the proud distinction of being the only man in Southern California holding office in the Woman's Land Army, as he has been appointed Director of the work for Riverside county by Mrs. Orpha Eastman, chairman of organization for Southern California.

Following the example set by the English women, who have been organized for war service work through agricultural activities since the beginning of the war, and who have rendered such invaluable service that the English government now has official charge of the work through the Land Army organization formed by the women, the American girls have responded in large numbers to the call for help in food production and conservation. In the important task of food preservation in the canneries many school teachers as well as school girls find pleasant relaxation in a "vacation" spent in a change of work which is at the same time a patriotic service.

The Glendale girls who left yesterday in the uniform of the Woman's Land Army of America were Miss Lorraine Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, of 2001 Kenneth road, Miss Elsie Church, of 221 South Orange street, Miss Bertha Berry, daughter of Mrs. Helen Berry, of 225 Mountain avenue, and Miss Maybelle Douglass, all teachers in the Columbus avenue school, Miss Harriet Douglas, a teacher in Los Angeles, Miss Mary Doyle, a teacher in Arizona and daughter of T. W. Doyle, of 891 South Glendale avenue, and Miss May Darlington Lahey, niece of Mrs. W. Lindsay of Glendale Heights.

As recently as 1906 there were only 100,000 motor vehicles in the United States compared with nearly 5,000,000 of 1917, while in 1904 the total outlay in money and labor on the public roads aggregated only $80,000,000 compared with some $300,000,000 for 1917. Thus the public roads have been changed with bewildering rapidity from the status of the purely local utility to that of a utility of national importance and scope.

Road construction and maintenance in the United States involve an annual outlay of over $300,000,000, a sum which, if capitalized at 5 per cent, would represent an investment of $6,000,000,000.

DOWN WITH JADE; UP WITH GARBAGE!

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Jade carvings, lacquered shrines, and carved wood jewel boxes will not help win the war, in the opinion of the American government, but tin cans and garbage will.

In its steady progress toward elimination of the great American waste, the government has put the three former items on the restricted imports list. The latter items are being looked after by other departments of the government.

Tennis rackets, tennis, golf, base, pingpong and bowling balls; almond flour used in cosmetics; metal vases and similar luxuries also are on a newly issued restricted imports list.

The department of agriculture announces that if you do not throw away your tin cans, but save them to can the kaiser, you may make some money. If you can gather 7,000 or 8,000 of them, free from rust, you may get $12 for them, according to quotations furnished by a smelter.

So worried has the government become about the sinful waste of beautiful garbage in this country, that the food administration has issued an appeal to the housekeeper, saying:

"One ton of garbage contains:

"Sufficient glycerine for 14 75-millimeter shells;

"Sufficient fatty acid for manufacture of 100 12-ounce cakes of soap; sufficient fertilizer elements to grow 8 bushels of wheat; a score of other material valuable in munitions making.

"If used as hog feed it will produce:

"One hundred pounds of good, firm, first quality pork.

"Can you afford to destroy these valuable products when your government needs them to help win the war?

"Put less in your garbage pail and take more out. But what must go in should be kept separate from other household refuse so it can be used.

"Remember! Garbage is valuable. Keep it clean!"

STUDENT NURSES ENTER CAMP SCHOOLS

Three hundred applicants for student nurses to enter training schools in the base hospitals at cantonments were accepted recently. There have been more than a thousand applications for entrance to these Army schools of nursing since the Government sent out its call for student nurses.

The majority of those offering their services have been college women, or women with a complete high-school education. The training units will be assigned, it is expected, during the present month. Each unit will number 25 or 30 student nurses and will be supervised by an accredited and competent nursing instructor and by a trained woman, who will be rseponsible for the physical welfare and recreation.

HOW AMERICA STANDS ON SUGAR

"How do we stand on sugar?" The question must be answered every day for the next six months by every consumer.

In answer to a similar query a member of the English Parliament said, "There is no prospect of any improvement in the national stocks of sugar so long as the war continues."

There is no such finality about the American sugar situation, but this calm acceptance of facts goes a long way in solving war problems. America, England, France and Italy depend mainly on Cuba for sugar. This means that so long as the war continues it is likely that the Allies will be on a meager sugar ration and America on a short allowance.

An improvement in shipping conditions would of course relieve the situation but distribution from now until the new crop comes in must be based on the sugar in sight and not on probable supplies. Facing the facts, the Food Administration has restricted the allowance of sugar in less essential food products in order to maintain a monthly ration of three pounds to consumers and provide sugar for both commercial and home canning.

In the plan of distribution which was put in force July 1, manufacturers of candy, soft drinks, tobacco, wine and such less essential products, were cut to 50 per cent of normal requirements. Ice cream makers will be allowed 75 per cent and canners of fruits and vegetables 100 per cent. No sugar can be sold to manufacturers, to retail merchants or to proprietors of eating places except on certificate from the local Food Administrator indicating the quantity that may be bought.

The householder is on honor to ration his family to three pounds a month per person and is urged to co-operate with the Government in a fair distribution of sugar supplies. If the sugar is available, home canners can obtain more than the 25-pound allowance for canning on approval of local administrators.

With the hearty co-operation of the public the Food Administration expects to avoid any serious scarcity of sugar for home consumption. The situation calls for a cheerful acceptance of facts and an all-round reciprocity on sugar—reciprocity between nations, between consumers and manufacturers, and between the American public and the Food Administration. Common sense and reciprocity all around will bring us to the end of the year without an embarrassing shortage.

NAVY ENFORCES DIRECT PURCHASE POLICY

Manufacturers and dealers are encouraged under the policy of the Navy Department to deal direct with the department. The purpose is to eliminate the middleman in purchases of supplies and materials.

"In my annual report," says Rear Admiral Samuel McGowan, "manufacturers were warned against profiteering agents, professional contractors, and naval brokers. In our regular mailing circular of January 8, 1918, we expressed the hope that 'manufacturers who have not availed themselves of the opportunity to bid direct will do so, as it will prove of advantage to them in bringing them in more intimate touch with the Navy and thereby make a reputation for the materials which they manufacture.'

"The fact is the responsibility of contractors was never so thoroughly investigated and they were never held to a stricter accountability than they have been since this country entered the war. The number of responsible direct bidders has increased greatly and the number of agents and intermediaries has been reduced to a minimum. The safeguards against profiteering have been strengthened, not relaxed."

There are over 14,000 names on the bidders' list of the Navy Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, representing every section of the country. These manufacturers and dealers furnish over 60,000 classes of articles used by the Navy.

Mrs. William Tilton, the charity worker, of Boston, says that of 22,000 operatives in four mills in Manchester, N. H., many of them foreign-born, just one left because of prohibition. In Nashua, N. H., the Poles and Lithuanians, nationalities supposed to be most dependent on liquor, increased in number on the mill payrolls during the first month of prohibition. Arthur J. Davis, of Boston, says that the shipyards of Portsmouth gained instead of losing men under prohibition.

BROOKLYN SHOWS HOW YARDS SHOULD LOOK

NEW YORK, July 16.—Under direction of Park Commissioner J. N. Harman, Brooklyn has established five model back yard gardens, open to the public for information and instruction from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. The gardens are at Prospect park, McCarren park, Betsey Head Playground, Highland park and Fort Greene park. At each of the children's gardens competent teachers instruct in all phases of gardening. Children are permitted to take crops to their homes.

WOMEN TO KILL PAIN

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Many wounded doughboys prefer the tender care of women attendants when on the operating table. For this reason the army is appointing women anaesthetists for the delicate work of administering the ether. Fifteen already have been appointed, the war department announces, receiving pay and privileges of first lieutenant, without, however, the actual rank.

Only graduate women physicians are eligible.

HONOR FILM STAR

Mrs. A. Billington and daughters, Mrs. Donald Webb and Miss Francelia Billington, American Mutual star, have returned from a visit to Catalina Island. They were guests at Island Villa and the new hotel St. Catharine, where they enjoyed a dinner dance complimentary to Miss Francelia at which Porter's Catalina Island band furnished the music.

ENGLAND PRESERVES WITHOUT SUGAR BY PULPING FRUIT

Every housekeeper is anxious to build up safe reserves of fruit and vegetables for winter, and a good provider takes justifiable pride in well-filled shelves. To such women the 25-pound allotment of sugar, or even a more generous allowance for canning, will not provide a safe margin unless there is a careful allocation—so much sugar for cherries, and so much for peaches—and this program backed up with generous supplies canned without sugar.

England has adopted a method of preserving fruit without sugar, known as "pulping," that is employed both commercially and in the homes. This method is economical of jars, as no water is used in canning the fruit.

The method, according to the Bulletin of the Royal Horticultural Society, is as follows: Pack sterilized jars full of fruit, add no water, place rubbers and caps in position, and fill pan with water up to the shoulders of the bottles. Place pan on fire and bring water to the simmering point and keep it at this point half an hour. Remove bottles and fill them one from the other, replace rubbers and caps, and put the bottles back in the pan and bring them up to the simmering point again for another five minutes. Take them out one at a time and screw down the tops. Invert to cool and test the joints. Wrap in paper to prevent bleaching and store in a dry, cool place.

Cooking the fruit before bottling is a simple method of pulping, but the fruit will be darker than if the above method is followed. This method is as follows: Place fruit over a gentle heat until enough moisture comes out to prevent burning, then increase the heat until the fruit boils. Boil an hour, stirring all the time, and can, following usual methods of sterilizing. In putting up apples a little water will have to be added to the fruit to prevent burning.

Pulped fruit can be used for jam, stewed fruit, puddings and pies. The English housewife who has to be very careful of sugar makes up pulp into jam one jar at a time, allowing half a pint of sugar to a pint of fruit. This does not make so sweet a jam as the usual quantity of sugar, but as this English woman writes, "It is quite good enough and in these days jam of any kind is almost a luxury."

FINE PIES ARE FLYING LOW THIS SUMMER

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 16.—"Four and twenty blackbirds, baked in a pie," not only is a pretty dish to set before a king, but it is good enough for any sovereign citizen of the United States, according to George Neale, California fish and game warden, who is urging Californians to eat blackbirds and win the war.

One of the economies pointed out by the warden is the saving in ammunition. One charge of small shot will kill a whole mess of blackbirds, they travel in such dense flocks. Also, the birds do considerable damage to crops in some sections.

BETTER SHIP LOADING HELPS OUR ALLIES

Economies of approximately 20 per cent in shipping weight and 50 per cent in shipping space have resulted from improved methods of packing merchandise for overseas practiced by the Army Quartermaster Corps. This is equivalent to about 2,500 tons space per month.

For the shipment of clothing and equipage, including such items as blankets, barack bags, towels, shelter tent halves, bedding, and other dry goods, in addition to wearing apparel, baling has been substituted for boxing, and the weight of the lumber has been saved. The bales average 30 by 15 by 15 inches and weigh 90 pounds. They are bound with not less than four cold rolled unannealed steel bands. Burlap over waterproofed heavy paper is used to cover the bales, and there are two "ears" on either ends of the bale for handling.

Women are stevedores on the docks in France. There is a law they shall not be required to carry packages weighing more than 70 pounds. Packages shipped to the American Expeditionary Forces are standardized so they shall not weigh more than 70 pounds for handling by one woman carrier or more than 140 pounds by two women carriers. Men handle the heavier packages and the boxes that must be used instead of bales.

The Quartermaster Corps recommends to manufacturers supplying the Army many similar economies in packing and shipping which will result in even more pronounced space and weight saving. Round cans and containers entail a waste in space of 23 per cent. Square containers are urged. It is estimated that every inch saved through bale compression is worth 65 cents in ship space.

NOT TOO DEAF TO HEAR HIS COUNTRY'S CALL

SNOKOMISH, Wash., July 16.—It will not be necessary to draft Charles Ludwig into the war. He has written to the national war garden commission, saying he is 70 and entirely deaf; "but I am in this war with my Uncle Sam, and so have my war garden in good shape." He wrote for a canning booklet and asked for information about the commission's $10,000 in prizes for canning.

BLACK WALNUT IN DEMAND

The Department of Agriculture has undertaken to assist the War Department in obtaining the large quantities of walnut timber needed for gunstock and airplane propeller material. The demand is far beyond what can be supplied through the usual channels of trade. Appeal is being made to all owners who can be reached to assist in getting every available walnut tree to market. This is urged both as a patriotic duty and as good business, owing to the high prices now being paid for walnut.

Because of its resistance to warping and splitting, walnut is the best wood for these essential parts of our war-making equipment. Experts of the Forest Service are in the field locating available supplies. Considerable quantities of walnut have been reported by the county agents, and the Boy Scouts, at the request of President Wilson, are making a canvass of walnut owners.

The firms having contracts with the Government to furnish black walnut for gun-stocks and airplane propellers and subcontractors to those concerns afford the best markets. These buy logs in lots of a carload or more, standing walnut of a merchantable amount, and lumber of specified kinds. A list of these firms may be had by applying to the Forest Service, Washington, D. C. No direct purchases of walnut timber are made by the Government; it is merely using its machinery to locate the timber and stimulate the placing of it on the market by bringing the manufacturers and timber owners together.

Actuated by patriotism, some farmers have sold walnut at low prices to persons representing themselves as purchasers for the Government, who have then resold to the manufacturers at a large profit for themselves. Buyers should be required to show their credentials before a sale is made. If advised of the name and address of persons making false claims and threatening to force people to sell their walnut, the Government is in a position to investigate the cases and take action.

A carload of walnut logs usually contains from 3,000 to 5,000 board feet, log scale. In the central Mississippi River basin, carloads are made up usually of from 18 to 25 logs, but farther east where the walnut trees average smaller, from 35 to 50 are loaded on a car.

Logs are wanted 12 inches and over in diameter at the small ends and 8, 10, 12, etc., feet in length. A few logs 10 inches in diameter and 5 feet in length will be accepted in order to avoid wasting useful parts of the tree. Trees cutting less than a 10-foot log 12 inches in diameter lose much in scaling and should be cut sparingly and only to fill out an order. No cutting should be done by owners without having entered into a written contract with one of the firms working on Government orders, or without having a distinct understanding as to specifications and prices.

Prices for logs vary widely, being based chiefly on clearness, diameter at the small end, and cost of transportation to the manufacturing plant. Logs sometimes run in three diameter groups, namely, 12 to 18 inches, inclusive, 19 to 23 inches, and 24 inches and over, and are purchased on the basis of these diameter groups. The prices paid at loading points for reasonably clear walnut logs, that will cut airplane propeller and gunstock material, have in a number of cases averaged around $80 to $90 per thousand feet, depending on the average grade of the logs. The value on the stump is determined by the value at the loading point minus the cost of logging and a reasonable profit on the operation.

Gunstocks are made from planks or "flitches" sawed from second-grade logs and the less desirable portions of better logs and the less desirable portions of better logs. Airplane propellers demand the very best grades of clear walnut lumber. Logs 16 inches and up in diameter at the small end and 10 feet and over in length, suitable for airplane propeller stock, are especially needed by the firms upon which the Government is dependent for this important war material.

INFORMATION SERVICE BUREAU EXPANDS RAPIDLY

The Service Bureau of the Committee on Public Information has taken over various departmental independent information bureaus at Union Station, Washington, will consolidate and reorganize them and be prepared to give all visitors accurate information on Government business and the names and location of those clothed with authority to speak and act for the Government.

Since the service bureau opened offices May 1 it has built up a card-index system with 50,000 entries, many of the cards being subject to daily revision and correction. In a recent week the bureau handled 1,630 visitors seeking special information and answered an average of 150 query letters daily.

Department of Agriculture specialists, appealing for increased production of poultry and eggs, make these suggestions: Keep better poultry; select healthy, vigorous breeders; hatch early; preserve eggs; cull the flocks; grow as much poultry feed as possible; supply the family table; eat more poultry and eggs and conserve the meat supply.
